Dearly loved, sadly missed.

Could I, his wife, have clasped his hand,

The husband I loved so well,

To kiss his brow when death was near,

And whisper, "Dear Jim, farewell."

If we could run to meet you, daddy,

And climb upon your knee

But let this little token tell

Mother always tells us of thee.

Our dear soldier daddy.

Commonwealth War Graves Commission Headstones

The Defence Department, in 1920/21, contacted the next of kin of the deceased World War 1 soldiers to see if they wanted to include a personal inscription on the permanent headstone at Durrington War Graves Cemetery. Space was reserved for 66 letters only (with the space between any two words to be counted as an additional letter) & the rate per letter was around 3 ½ d (subject to fluctuation).

The expense in connection for the erection of permanent headstones over the graves of fallen soldiers was borne by the Australian Government.

(Information obtained from letters sent to next of kin in 1921)

A letter from Base Records, dated 15th July, 1921, to Mrs H. N. Harper advises that a letter from the Defence Dept. concerning an inscription of the late Pte J. H. Harper's headstone had not been answered & non-receipt of a reply within 21 days would have to be accepted as indicating that no further action was to be taken.

Pte J. H. Harper does not have a personal inscription on his headstone.
