Alfred Charles JONES

Charles Alfred Jones was born at Ringarooma, Scottsdale, Tasmania on 14th September, 1890 to parents Robert & Sarah Jones (nee Williams).

Alfred Charles Jones was a 24 year old, single, Farmer from 141 Mile Gate, Katanning East, Western Australia when he enlisted on 27th January, 1915 at Blackboy Hill, Western Australia with the Australian Imperial Force (A.I.F.). His service number was 1824 & his religion was Church of England. His next of kin was listed as his father – Mr Robert Jones, Scottsdale, Tasmania. Alfred Charles Jones stated on his Attestation Papers that he had served for 2 years with 12th Australian Infantry.

Private Alfred Charles Jones was posted to Depot Company on 27th January, 1915 for recruit training. He was transferred to 4th Reinforcements of 16th Battalion on 8th March, 1915.

Private Alfred Charles Jones embarked from Fremantle, Western Australia on HMAT Argyllshire (A8) on 19th April, 1915 with the 4th Infantry Brigade, 16th Infantry Battalion, 4th Reinforcements.

Private Alfred Charles Jones was taken on strength of 16th Battalion at Gallipoli Peninsula on 2nd June, 1915. He disembarked at Alexandria from Ascanius on 30th December, 1915 (after the evacuation of Gallipoli).

16th Battalion

The 16th Battalion AIF was raised from 16 September 1914, six weeks after the outbreak of the First World War. Three-quarters of the battalion were recruited in Western Australia, and the rest in South Australia. With the 13th, 14th and 15th Battalions it formed the 4th Brigade commanded by Colonel John Monash.

From May to August the battalion was heavily involved in establishing and defending the front line of the ANZAC beachhead, and in August the 4th Brigade attacked Hill 971. The hill was taken at great cost, although Turkish reinforcements forced the Australians to withdraw. The battalion served at ANZAC until the evacuation in December.

After the withdrawal from Gallipoli, the battalion returned to Egypt. While there the AIF expanded and was reorganised. The 16th Battalion was split and provided experienced soldiers for the 48th Battalion. The 4th Brigade was combined with the 12th and 13th Brigades to form the 4th Australian Division...

(Extract of Battalion information from the Australian War Memorial)

Private Alfred Charles Jones was transferred & taken on strength of No. 4 Machine Gun Company at Tel-el-Kebir on 9th March, 1916 & appointed Driver to complete Establishment.

Driver Alfred Charles Jones proceeded from Alexandria on 1st June, 1916 to join B.E.F. (British Expeditionary Force) & disembarked at Marseilles, France on 9th June, 1916.

Driver Alfred Charles Jones reported sick on 16th October, 1916. He was admitted to 4th Australian Field Ambulance on 16th October, 1916 with Scabies & was transferred to 3rd Casualty Clearing Station on the same day with Sebaceous Cystitis. Driver Jones was transferred & admitted to 14th General Hospital at Wimereux on 16th October, 1916 with a Cyst then transferred to 1st Convalescent Depot at Boulogne, France on 17th October, 1916. He was discharged on 18th October, 1916 & admitted to 3rd Large Rest Camp at Boulogne. Driver Jones was posted to 4th A.D.B.D. (Australian Divisional Base Depot) on 22nd October, 1916 & rejoined his Unit on 4th November, 1916.

Driver Alfred Charles Jones was recommended for the Military Medal on 14th December, 1916. "This Driver was attached to the pack Mule Transport Corps. He delivered Rations daily under heavy shell fire and under great difficulties and at times when shells burst amongst the animals he displayed great initiative and coolness and saved them from stampeding. He personally saved several animals from suffocation that had fallen into shell holes and thus saved the mules and Rations which at that time were urgently needed. He set a fine example to his fellow drivers."

Driver Alfred Charles Jones was recommended for the Military Medal on 17th December, 1916. He was one of sixteen men recommended: "During the operations near GUEUDECOURT from 15-11-16 to 6-12-16 these N.C.O.'s and Med did most excellent work as members of the Divisional Pack Transport Troop. They are selected from the 256 N.C.O.'s and Drivers as having set a fine example to the remainder by their coolness under fire, determination, and resource. They never failed in getting the mules up to Battalion Headquarters although they came constantly under shell fire, during which a number of mules were killed. Their work was done at night under the most difficult conditions, and they were instrumental in saving a number of valuable animals from drowning when bogged in shell holes in the portion of their journey beyond Brigade Headquarters, which was under constant shell fire. I strongly recommend them for reward."

Driver Alfred Charles Jones reported sick on 5th January, 1917. He was admitted to 4th Australian Field Ambulance on 5th January, 1917 then transferred to 1st Anzac R. R. Station the same day. Driver Jones was transferred & admitted to 45th Casualty Clearing Station on 26th January, 1917 then transferred to Ambulance Train 25. He was admitted to 3rd Stationary Hospital at Rouen, France & embarked for England on Hospital Ship Dunluce Castle from Havre, France on 29th January, 1917 with I.C.T. (Inflammation of connective tissues) left finger.

Driver Alfred Charles Jones was awarded the Military Medal on 20th January, 1917. (London Gazette – 19 February, 1917; Commonwealth of Australia Gazette – 25 July, 1917)

Military Medal

The Military Medal (MM) was a military decoration awarded to personnel of the British Army and other arms of the armed forces, and to personnel of other Commonwealth countries, below commissioned rank, for bravery in battle on land. The award was established in 1916, with retrospective application to 1914, and was awarded to other ranks for "acts of gallantry and devotion to duty under fire". (Wikipedia)

Neina Jones, George St, Scottsdale, wrote to Base Records in September, 1922: "In the event of my father's death, the late Robert Jones Junr, would you kindly send any communications re the late 1244 Drv A. C. Jones M.M. 4th M.G.Coy, A.I.F. address to me as next of kin."

Base Records replied to Miss N. Jones on 2nd October, 1922 with the following: "With reference to your communication of 20th September, I should be glad if you would advise me whether the mother of the late No. 1824 Driver A. C. Jones, M.M., 4th Machine Gun Company, is living. If not, has the soldier any surviving brothers (stating the name and address of the eldest), or sisters older than yourself? The information is required for notation on the records."

The following was handwritten on the back of the above letter from Base Records: "Driver A. C. Jones mother is dead. The address for his only brother is P. E. Jones, corner St George Terrace & Napolian St, Battery Point, Hobart. His eldest sister is Mrs R. J. Lisson, Woolgin St, Wynyard."

[Note: The front page of Driver Jones' Attestation Papers are marked in red with "Parents stated to be deceased. Only Brother – P. E. Jones, corner George Terrace & Napolian St, Battery Point, Hobart."]

Base Records wrote to Mr P. E. Jones, Cr, St George Terrace & Napolian Street, Battery Point, Hobart, Tasmania on 11th January, 1930 with the following letter: "I am forwarding herewith at the request of an officer stationed at Tidworth two photographs showing the sprig of wattle placed on the grave of your brother, the late No. 1824 Driver A. C. Jones, M.M., 4th Machine Gun Company, in Tidworth Cemetery, England."

Base Records wrote to Mrs R. J. Lisson, Dodgin Street, Wynyard, Tasmania on 23rd June, 1932 forwarding "at the request of the Imperial War Graves Commission a printed order form referring to the publication of Tidworth Military Cemetery Register containing the particulars of your brother, the late No. 1824 Driver A. C. Jones. M.M., 4th Machine Gun Company." The letter continues that the letters "M.M.", signifying the Military Medal, "had been inadvertently been omitted & the discrepancy is being brought to the notice of the Commission with a view to ensuring the accuracy of the headstone inscription." Included in the letter "two photographs received from an Officer at Tidworth showing the sprig of wattle placed on the grave of this soldier. These were previously forwarded to the deceased's brother, Mr P. E. Jones, and returned unclaimed, and I should be obliged if you would kindly undertake to being same to his notice."

Minnie Winifred Margaret Lisson, 75A Federal St, North Hobert, Tasmania applied for the Gallipoli Medal on 25th July, 1967 in respect of her brother Alfred Charles Jones (M.M.). She was his eldest sister.

Driver Alfred Charles Jones is remembered on the Wall of Remembrance, at the War Memorial, Cecilia Street, St. Helens, Tasmania. The Wall of Remembrance commemorates those from Tasmania who died in service or were killed in action in World War One.

Front Inscription

Tasmania's World War One Roll of Honour, 1914 - 1918

The names of 3165 soldiers, sailors and airmen who were Tasmanian by birth or residence and died from their service in WW1 are commemorated on these walls. Their names appear alphabetically, grouped by the year of death. These men served with Australian, New Zealand and British units.

"What these men did nothing can alter now. The good and the bad, the greatness and the smallness of their story will stand. Whatever of glory it contains nothing now can lessen. It rises, as it will always rise, above the mists of ages, a monument to great hearted men; and for their nation, a possession forever."

Commonwealth War Graves Commission Headstones

The Defence Department, in 1920/21, contacted the next of kin of the deceased World War 1 soldiers to see if they wanted to include a personal inscription on the permanent headstone. Space was reserved for 66 letters only (with the space between any two words to be counted as an additional letter) & the rate per letter was around 3 ½ d (subject to fluctuation).

The expense in connection for the erection of permanent headstones over the graves of fallen soldiers was borne by the Australian Government.

(Information obtained from letters sent to next of kin in 1921)

Driver A. C. Jones does have a personal inscription on his headstone.

Peace Perfect Peace

Tidworth Military Cemetery, Wiltshire, England

Tidworth Military Cemetery, which contains burials of both wars, was directly connected with training grounds on, or near, Salisbury Plain.

During the First World War, the cemetery was used for burials from Tidworth and Fargo Military Hospitals and the 417 graves, many of them of Australian or New Zealand servicemen, are scattered throughout the cemetery.

There are 106 Second World War graves in the cemetery, two substantial groups of which can be found in sections F and D. The rest are scattered.

The cemetery also contains 40 war graves of other nationalities, many of them Polish.
