World War 1

4527 PRIVATE

C. M. JONES

57TH BN. AUSTRALIAN INF. 10TH DECEMBER, 1916

Clarence Morgan JONES

Clarence Morgan Jones was born on 1st June, 1892 at Bothwell, near Oatlands, Tasmania to parents Charles James Benjamin Jones and Mary Ann Jones (nee Fleming). (Clarence Morgan listed his place of birth on his Attestation Papers as Colebrook, Tasmania.)

Clarence Morgan Jones was Home schooled.

Clarence Morgan Jones was a 23 year old, single, Shepherd from Jericho, Tasmania when he enlisted on 15th September, 1915 with the Australian Imperial Force (A.I.F.). His service number was 4527 & his religion was Church of England. His next of kin was listed as his father – Mr C. Jones, of Colebrook, Tasmania.

Private Clarence Morgan Jones was posted to "A" Company at Claremont on 15th September, 1915 for recruit training. He was transferred to 12th Infantry Battalion, 14th Reinforcements on 10th December, 1915.

Private Clarence Morgan Jones embarked from Melbourne, Victoria on HMAT Warilda (A69) on 8th February, 1916 with the 12th Infantry Battalion, 14th Reinforcements & disembarked at Suez on 8th March, 1916.

Private Clarence Morgan Jones was taken on strength of 52nd Battalion from 12th Battalion at Serapeum on 19th April, 1916.

Private Clarence Morgan Jones was re-allotted from 3rd Training Battalion on 20th May, 1916 to 13th Training Battalion as Reinforcements to 52nd Battalion.

Private Clarence Morgan Jones was sent to Hospital on 23rd May, 1916. He was transferred from 54th Casualty Clearing Station with Pleurisy then admitted to No. 1 Australian Stationary Hospital at Serapeum on 27th May, 1916.

Private Clarence Morgan Jones embarked from Alexandria on 21st June, 1916 on Ivernia to join B.E.F. (British Expeditionary Force). He disembarked at Marseilles, France on 30th June, 1916.

He was admitted to 38th Casualty Clearing Station with Trench feet then transferred to Ambulance Train on 29th November, 1916. Pte Jones was admitted to 2nd General Hospital at Havre, France on 30th November, 1916. Pte Jones was invalided to England on 3rd December, 1916 on Hospital Ship Gloucester Castle.

57th Battalion

The 57th Battalion was raised in Egypt on 18 February 1916 as part of the "doubling" of the AIF. Half of its recruits were Gallipoli veterans from the 5th Battalion, and the other half, fresh reinforcements from Australia. Reflecting the composition of the 5th, the 57th was predominantly composed of men from the suburbs of Melbourne. The battalion became part of the 15th Brigade of the 5th Australian Division.

Having only arrived in France in late June, the 57th became embroiled in its first major battle on the Western Front on 19 July, without the benefit of an introduction to the trenches in a "quiet" sector. The battle of Fromelles was a disaster. Fortunately for the 57th it was allocated a supporting role and suffered relatively light casualties compared to its sister battalions. This, however, meant that 57th carried the burden of holding the line in ensuing days for the battalion. Despite its grievous losses, the 5th Division continued to man the front in the Fromelles sector for a further two months.

War Diary – 57th Battalion

27th November, 1916 - Near Gueudecourt

The day was fine throughout and was spent in effecting all trench improvements possible. The usual shelling on both sides was maintained. The sick parades were very heavy, the result of the previous days rain and exposure.

Every attention was given to feet. Hot food was got up three times during the day and night. The usual ration and working parties were maintained.

Front Inscription

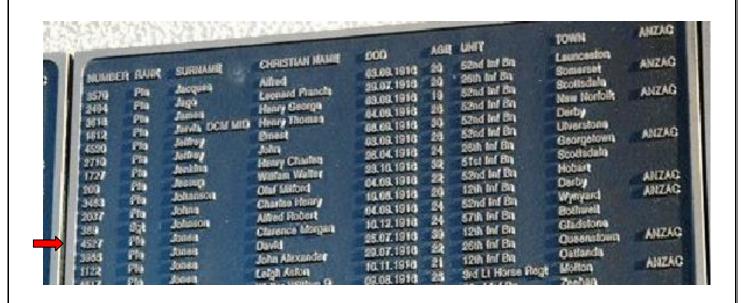

Tasmania's World War One Roll of Honour, 1914 - 1918

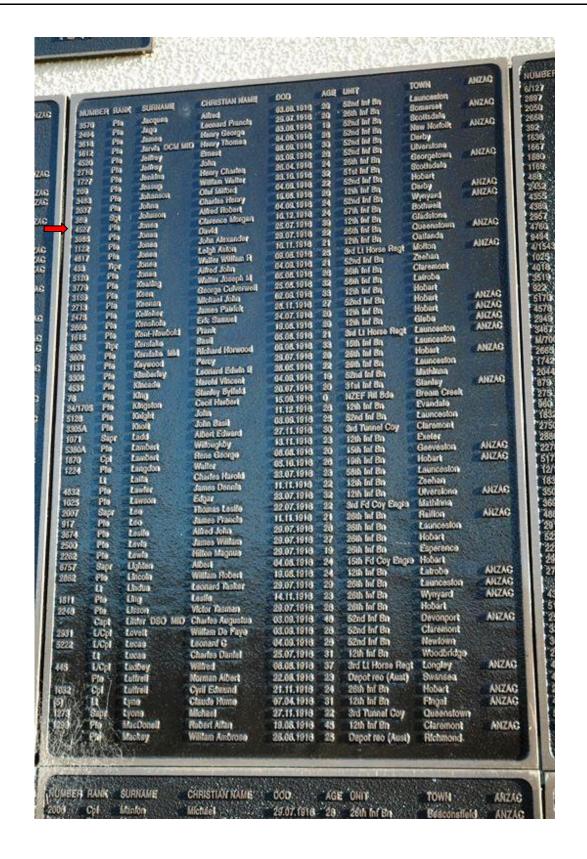

The names of 3165 soldiers, sailors and airmen who were Tasmanian by birth or residence and died from their service in WW1 are commemorated on these walls. Their names appear alphabetically, grouped by the year of death. These men served with Australian, New Zealand and British units.

"What these men did nothing can alter now. The good and the bad, the greatness and the smallness of their story will stand. Whatever of glory it contains nothing now can lessen. It rises, as it will always rise, above the mists of ages, a monument to great hearted men; and for their nation, a possession forever."

HOSPITAL CASES

Private C. M. Jones, Colebrook, seriously ill.

(Daily Telegraph, Launceston, Tasmania – 26 December, 1916)

ROLL OF HONOUR

JONES – Died of illness, on December 10, 1916, Private Clarence Margan, fourth dearly beloved son of Charles J. B. and Mary A. Jones, in the 25th year of his age. For King and country.

A Tasmanian soldier, Private C. M. Jones, saying good-bye to his dear mother when the brave hero was going into the firing lines:-

Good-bye to My Dear Mother.

Dearest Mother,

I am sending just a line before we start;

Makes a chap feel rather serious,

From his home and folk to part,

But we shall not be down hearted;

There is sun as well as rain;

Hope you will keep quite fit and cheery

Until I return again.

(The Mercury, Hobart, Tasmania – 25 January, 1917)

IN MEMORIAM

Died on Active Service

JONES – In loving memory of our dear brothers, Corporal Walter Henry Jones, who died of wounds in France on May 7, 1917; also his brother, Private Clarence Morgan Jones, who died of illness on December 10, 1916.

Your deaths had saddened our home, dear brothers,

Though noble was your call;

You fought and died for us, dears,

The bravest death of all.

And when I think of you, dear brother,

The tears that often flow.

And to that far off lonely spot

Our thought they often go,

Inserted by his loving brother and sister-in-law, Charlie and Isabell.

Commonwealth War Graves Commission Headstones

The Defence Department, in 1920/21, contacted the next of kin of the deceased World War 1 soldiers to see if they wanted to include a personal inscription on the permanent headstone. Space was reserved for 66 letters only (with the space between any two words to be counted as an additional letter) & the rate per letter was around 3 ½ d (subject to fluctuation).

The expense in connection for the erection of permanent headstones over the graves of fallen soldiers was borne by the Australian Government.

(Information obtained from letters sent to next of kin in 1921)

Private C. M. Jones does not have a personal inscription on his headstone.

Milton Cemetery, Portsmouth, Hampshire, England

Milton Cemetery, Portsmouth contains 426 Commonwealth War Graves – 192 relating to World War 1 & 234 relating to World War 2. There are 12 Australian War Graves from World War 1 in this cemetery.

It was opened in 1911, and contains war graves of both World Wars. The 1914-1918 burials are mainly in Plot 1. After the war a Cross of Sacrifice was erected on the northern side of the chapel in honour of all the servicemen buried in the cemetery. The 1939-1945 War burials are widely spread throughout the cemetery.
