SOLDIERS OF THE NORTH

At Home and Abroad

The following letter has been received by Mrs. Marker, of "East Lynne," Currabubula, from Lieut.-Col. M. Marshall, the officer in charge of reinforcements, relative to the death of her son, Pte. H. T. Marker, at sea:— I write to express my regret at the death of your son, Pte. H. T. Marker, a member of my reinforcements, who died at sea, of pneumonia, on October 21 last. He received every possible attention both from the medical officers, their staff, and our Church of England clergyman, who was with him at the end. His illness was short, and he was cheerful to the last. He was one of my most promising boys and a great favorite in the company. You will be consoled with the knowledge that dying as he did on active service he gave his life for Australia and the Empire, equally as much as had he been killed in action.

IN MEMORIAM

MARKER – In loving memory of our dear son, Pte Harry Marker, died at sea, October 23, 1918. Aged 20 years and 9 months.

Lonely and sad I sit at night,

And think of the days gone by,

When we sat together side by side,

My poor Harry and I.

The shock was great, the blow severe,

To part with one I loved so dear;

Only those who have lost are able to tell

The pain of the heart at not saying farewell.

Inserted by his sorrowing mother and father.

MARKER – In loving memory of our dear brother, Pte Harry Marker, died at sea, October 23, 1919. Aged 20 years and 9 months.

One year has passed, how long it seems,

In all our thoughts his face still beams,

From memory's page we'll never blot

May scatter some flowers for me.

This is the day of remembrance to all,

This is a sad day to recall;

One long year has passed and none can tell,

The loss of our dear brother we loved so well.

Cold his watery grave;

Gone and forgotten by some he may be,

But never forgotten one moment by me.

Inserted by his loving sister and brother-in-law, Irene and William.

Commonwealth War Graves Commission Headstones

The Commonwealth War Graves Commission cares for cemeteries and memorials in 23,000 locations, in 153 countries. In all 1.7 million men and women from the Commonwealth forces from WWI and WWII have been honoured and commemorated in perpetuity.

The Commonwealth War Graves Commission, as part of its mandate, is responsible for commemorating all Commonwealth war dead individually and equally. To this end, the war dead are commemorated by name on a headstone, at an identified site of a burial, or on a memorial. War dead are commemorated uniformly and equally, irrespective of military or civil rank, race or creed.

Not all service personnel have a Commonwealth War Graves Commission headstone. In some instances the relative chose to have their own memorial/headstone placed on the deceased's grave. These private headstones are not maintained by the CWGC as they have no jurisdiction to maintain them.

Hollybrook Memorial, Southampton, Hampshire, England

The Hollybrook Memorial is situated in Southampton (Hollybrook) Cemetery behind the plot of First World War graves near the main entrance.

The Hollybrook Memorial commemorates by name almost 1,900 servicemen and women of the Commonwealth land and air forces* whose graves are not known, many of whom were lost in transports or other vessels torpedoed or mined in home waters (*Officers and men of the Commonwealth's navies who have no grave but the sea are commemorated on memorials elsewhere). The memorial also bears the names of those who were lost or buried at sea, or who died at home but whose bodies could not be recovered for burial. Almost one third of the names on the memorial are those of officers and men of the South African Native Labour Corps, who died when the troop transport Mendi sank in the Channel following a collision on 21 February 1917. Other vessels sunk with significant loss of life were: HS Anglia, a hospital ship sunk by mine off Dover on 17 November 1915. SS Citta Di Palermo, an Italian transport carrying Commonwealth troops, sunk by mine off Brindisi on 8 January 1916. In rescuing survivors, two Royal Naval Otranto drifters were themselves mined and blown up. HMTs Donegal and Warilda, ambulance transports torpedoed and sunk between Le Havre and Southampton on 17 April 1917 and 3 August 1918. HS Glenart Castle, a hospital ship torpedoed and sunk off Lundy on 26 February 1918. SS Galway Castle, torpedoed and sunk in the Atlantic on 12 September 1918. RMS Leinster, the Irish mail boat, torpedoed and sunk in the Irish Sea on 10 October 1918. Among those commemorated on the Hollybrook Memorial is Field Marshall Lord Kitchener, Secretary of State for War, who died when the battle cruiser HMS Hampshire was mined and sunk off Scapa Flow on 5 June 1916.

The memorial was designed by T. Newham and unveiled by Sir William Robertson on 10 December 1930.

There are approximately 162 Australian World War 1 Service Personnel commemorated on the Hollybrook Memorial, Southampton, Hampshire, England.
