IN MEMORIAM

WISE --In loving memory of Gunner J.T. A. Wise, "Snowy," son of T. W. P. and C. Wise, died on active service at Fargo Military Hospital, England, on May 18th, 1917. It only was his body His loving comrades placed beneath the sod; His soul had gone to blossom In the paradise of God. Though cast down, We are not forsaken, God loves to have our confidence, And even as we plead, Bright spirits wait to minister To every pressing need, For darkness, light, for sorrow, Joy, the future will repay So every child of God who loves to keep his blessed way. -Inserted by his loving father, mother, and brothers. Commonwealth War Graves Commission Headstones

The Commonwealth War Graves Commission cares for cemeteries and memorials in 23,000 locations, in 153 countries. In all 1.7 million men and women from the Commonwealth forces from WWI and WWII have been honoured and commemorated in perpetuity.

The Commonwealth War Graves Commission, as part of its mandate, is responsible for commemorating all Commonwealth war dead individually and equally. To this end, the war dead are commemorated by name on a headstone, at an identified site of a burial, or on a memorial. War dead are commemorated uniformly and equally, irrespective of military or civil rank, race or creed.

Not all service personnel have a Commonwealth War Graves Commission headstone. In some instances the relative chose to have their own memorial/headstone placed on the deceased's grave. These private headstones are not maintained by the CWGC as they have no jurisdiction to maintain them.

Gunner J. T. A. Wise does not have a Commonwealth War Graves Commission Headstone. His headstone was "erected by his Comrades of the A.I.F.".

Many of the graves are of Australian servicemen and there is a separate Australian memorial in the cemetery. The Second World War burials number 22. In addition to the war graves, there are a number of post-war service graves in the cemetery, mostly of the Royal Air Force. (Information from CWGC)
